Village Now Transacts $114,751.48 Business Treas. Hunter Reports

Income and Expenditures Both Considerably More in Past Fiscal Year

Village income and expenditures still continued to climb during the fiscal year ending April 30, according to the published report of Treasurer Martha Hunter.

The total receipts for the past year were $80,000, which was well up from last year because of the $18,648.59 in sales tax money. Other large items were water collections, $22,275.54; parking meter collections, $10,317.10; and general taxes, $13,117.50.

Building permit fees were more than usual, amounting to $1,374, while licenses remained about the same.

This income with bond reserve and cash on hand of $26,306.45 as of last May 1 made a grand total of $114,751.48.

Disbursements, firemen's sinking fund reserve, and sewerage depreciation and bond reserve amounted $80,089.27, leaving a balance to start the new year amounting to $34,662.21.

More than half of this balance is earmarked for off-street parking and other matters.

The detailed report is given elsewhere in this paper.

Methodist Ministers Laymen Will Attend Annual Conference

The Rev. Howard Benson, pastor and Mrs. Loyal Sittler, lay delegate of the Antioch Methodist church and the Rev. Gerald B. Robinson, pastor, and Bert Hooper, lay delegate of the Lake Villa Methodist church will be among the 664 official delegates to the Rock River Annual Conference of the church at DeKalb, Ill., next week.

The wives of the pastors will attend a meeting for ministers' wives on Thursday, June 21, and while the ministers will be at the conference Monday through Friday, the lay delegates may attend but one day—laymen's day—if they so desire.

Conference sessions will be conducted at Northern Illinois State College in the college auditorium. Those attending Conference will be housed in college dormitories and in DeKalb homes. Some of the worship sessions of Conference will be held in First Methodist Church, DeKalb, where the Rev. William D. White is pastor.

Rock River Conference includes Methodist churches in northern Illinois. This territory includes 372 churches with a membership of 169,821.

The five-day Conference will open with a memorial service Monday, June 18 at 2:30 p. m. with the Rev. (Dr.) Stuart D. White, pastor of First Methodist Church, Austin, in charge. Conference will adjourn Friday evening, June 22, following the reading of pastoral appointments for the new Conference year by Bishop Brashares.

Conference lecturer this year will be the Rev. (Dr.) Harold A. Bosley, pastor of First Methodist Church, Evanston.

Among items of business this year will be plans to carry out legislation and program set by the General Conference of the Methodist Church which met in Minneapolis, Minn., April 25 to May 7.

Official delegates to Annual Conference are equally divided between laymen and ministers. Rock River Conference has 372 Methodist churches, but 332 pastoral charges. The pastor of each charge is the ministerial delegate and the charge elects the lay delegate.

This year is the first in the 117-year history of Rock River Conference that it has met at DeKalb, according to the Rev. William D. White, DeKalb pastor.

In a merger move, effective July 1, 1956, the area served by the North Lake County Chapter, and the southern half of the County which has been served by the Chicago chapter, will be joined into a single chapter covering the whole of Lake County with the exception of Barrington.

Walsh, Meyer Chosen On All-Conference Mythical B. B. Team

Both May Be Called for Post-Season Game—Team Statistics

Frank Walsh, outfielder, and Jerry Meyer, catcher on the Antioch Township High School were chosen on the all-conference squad of 18 and have been certified for possible participation in the Chicago City-Suburban post-season game at Comiskey Park June 23.

Walsh has a season batting average of .417, leading the Antioch team, while Meyer was second with .384 average. Meyer had a fielding average of .938 while Walsh's fielding average was but .897.

Meyer was chosen as the most valuable player on the Sequoit team by his teammates, and Walsh was elected honorary captain.

Although he was behind the bat most of the season there was one occasion when Meyer faced the batters. He pitched one inning, allowing two hits and four runs, and found out that his ability was in catching.

Wayne Swanson was the leading pitcher on the Antioch team. He pitched 58 innings, gave up 63 hits, 60 runs, had 50 strikeouts, gave 46 bases on balls, won three and lost seven games for an earned run average of 3.74.

Earl Deppe, relief pitcher, pitched 29 innings, gave up 22 hits, 17 runs, 16 bases on balls, struck out 13, won 3 and lost 1, for an earned run average of 1.91.

Grass Lake Grade School District Selects Entirely New Seven-Man Board of Education; Heavy Vote Cast Through 9-Hour Election

Coast Guard Conducts Boat Boarding Program

CLEVELAND — Rear Admiral F. A. Leamy announced today an intensified Coast Guard boarding program, with orders to all units throughout the Ninth Coast Guard District to increase the boarding of small motorboats.

This action has made necessary by the tremendous upsurge in boating in the Great Lakes area.

The boarding parties, which will inspect both commercial and pleasure craft under 65 feet, will be watchful for lifesaving and fire-fighting equipment, proper lights, and other equipment required by laws and regulations pertaining to safety on federal waters.

Throughout the whole country, it is estimated that there will be over five million motorboats in use this season, of which over 110,000 will be on the Great Lakes alone. With this great increase in the use of motorboats, the Coast Guard wishes to stress the need for sound knowledge of seamanship, safe operation, and courtesy toward others using the waterways, in addition to having the proper equipment required by federal regulations.

Boat owners and operators are reminded that violators of the safety laws and regulations are subject to penalties and heavy fines.

Lakeside Brownies Attend Daytime Camp At Hasting Lakeside

One hundred Brownie Scouts from the Lakeside Council area enjoyed a very successful Day Camp, June 6, 7, and 8 at Camp Hastings, Leorn Lake. They met every day from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. and learned about regular camp life, including flag ceremonies, nature hikes, outdoor cook-outs, songs, story sessions, crafts and games.

The Scouts were so busy that a mid-day rest period was necessary. Mrs. Lucia Johnson was camp organizer, Mrs. Louise Kaufmann, registrar, and Mrs. Clara Sargol, camp director.

The counselors included Florence Yancey, Dorothy Siebert, Marge Stenzel, Leora Miller, Marion Kostelny, Lucille Cordigan, Dorothy Crane, Ruth Jedele, Betty Lodice, Frances Klecka, Helen Schimmel, Ardene Johnson, Helene Keeler, Violet Johnson, Viola Chiappetta, Elizabeth Walters, Rose Gotham, and Belle Hribar. Mrs. Ruth Close was camp nurse for the sessions.

This is the first year Brownie Day Camp has been held by the Lakeside Council, and its great success left an incentive with all for more of the same next year.

Intermediate Troop 6 of Grass Lake enjoyed a Court of Awards ceremony recently at the Grass Lake Scout House. Highlight of the program was a birthday cake in honor of the troop's 7th birthday, made and decorated by 19-year-old Lynn Yancy.

The badges earned included first and 2nd Class badges, several proficiency badges, and year membership pins were also awarded. The Scouts who received the awards in (continued on page 4)

Start Sale of Lions Club Swimming Pool Season Tickets Today

Swimming Lessons Will Be Given to Children, Adults For Added Fee

Anticipating the opening of the new Aqua Center Swimming Pool on or about July 1, the Lions Club Community Service Corp. has started receiving season ticket applications.

The board of directors, meeting Tuesday evening, established the family membership season ticket at $15. This will admit the parents and all children of the family up to the age of 18.

Individual adult season tickets will be $10 and children under 16 years will be only $7.50. The season tickets will be good for unlimited attendance, and ticket sales will be limited to the capacity of the pool.

Daily fees will be for children under 16, 40 cents for week days, and 65 cents on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Adult fees will be 75 cents on week days and $1 on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

There will be certain restrictions. No babies in arms will be allowed in the pool area. Season tickets are non-transferable. Tickets used by persons other than the owner will be confiscated.

In addition to the use of the pool, the corporation is offering swimming lessons for children on mornings, twice weekly. An adult swimming instruction course for Wednesday evenings is planned and dates will be announced later.

The weather this spring played a dirty trick on the contractors. Rain and cold delayed construction and then the weather turned hot before the contractors could complete the work.

The slogan of the Lions is "See You at the Pool."

The pool, now nearing completion, is in Williams Park east of the Scout House.

Traffic Violators Flee Antioch Police, But Captured by Sheriff

Two traffic violators who escaped from Police Chief Walter Scott were captured by a deputy sheriff after a 90-mile-an-hour chase during which the deputy fired two warning shots.

Chief Scott on Monday morning arrested Cletus J. Seltz, 21, Paddock Lake, Wis., who he charged with reckless driving, and Paul E. Runge, 27, of 7109 37th ave., Kenosha who he charged with disorderly conduct.

While he was taking them to police headquarters they broke away and escaped in their car.

Given a description of the car Deputy Sheriff Fred Zeason spotted the auto a short time later and gave chase. He said the men resisted his efforts to curb their car and sped west on Lake st. to Tiffany road, reaching 90 miles an hour before he was able to stop them at North ave. and Trevor rd. He fired the shots in the air over their car. Chief Scott assisted Zeason in taking the two to the county jail in the county squad car. When he returned he found that someone had broken the windshield, dented the hood and roof of the Antioch squad car with a large rock.

Sought is a friend of the two arrested men who is believed to have caused the damage in retaliation.

Firemen Dine on Fish, See Movies, Transact Dance, July 4th Plans

Antioch firemen report an enjoyable meeting Thursday night.

They were guests of George Borovicka at a fish fry at the fire station. Borovicka, local druggist, not only treated the firemen to some fine wall-eyed pike he caught recently at Bemij, Minn., but showed color movies of fishing there and in Arkansas. He also showed movies of an auto race in Florida.

Although this was Borovicka's first attempt at taking movies, the results were excellent.

In their business session the firemen made further plans for their annual dance on June 30, and the fireworks display on July 4.

Chief Edgar Simonsen and Russell Stowe were absent attending the annual fire school conducted by the state at Urbana, Ill.

Hot Weather Arrives

Hot weather arrived Saturday and Sunday and people poured from Chicago to avoid the heat through the cool waters of the lake. Many resorts were unprepared for them and ran out of food Sunday afternoon. This has been a cold spring and there was no gradual warming.

Bank Robbers at Large

Still at large are the bank robbers who held up the Lake Villa Trust and Savings Bank last Thursday and escaped with $4,200. They eluded police by changing to another car at Loch Lomond Country Club at Rte. 45 near Rte. 120, where an accomplice was waiting for them.

Without Varnish

David Lawrence tells a plain unvarnished truth in an article copyrighted by the New York Herald-Tribune when he says: "The modern concept of progressivism can lead to financial deterioration by increased spending but it is today applauded as 'popular' and a good way for ambitious individuals to get elected to public office."

"It was Thomas Jefferson who first declared the doctrine of 'equal rights for all, special privilege for none' but today he would be called a man without a heart and a reactionary who wants 'to turn the clock back.'"

"Insolvency, however, is threatened when legislators in a democracy can spend taxpayers' money without restraint. There is today no sign of a permanent halt to the steadily diminishing value of the dollar in America in terms of purchasing power. Solvency cannot be assured without sound fiscal methods."

"The pages of history are strewn with the wreckage caused by those in government who tried to spend more money than the taxpayer could pay."

Freedom Is an Absolute

Dan Thornhill, former governor of Colorado, had some wise words to say to the Oregon Cattlemen's Association. He urged these producers to reject government subsidies. And he made his point with a simple question: "Do we wish to remain a free enterprise nation or accept socialism?"

There is no real middle ground between those two extremes. "A little bit of socialism" inexorably grows, like live yeast, until we have a whole lot of socialism. Then the individual becomes a robot, responding to the strings pulled by the bosses—who are the politicians and the bureaucrats.

Groups of people may turn to government to help with some temporary problem. But, after the problem has been solved or has changed, government is still right there with its controls and its regulations and its rulebooks.

Moreover, government aid is always subject to the unpredictable winds of political expediency—as vast numbers of farmers must have learned by now. So far, according to all the evidence, a majority of livestock producers have been adamantly opposed to looking to government for solutions to their problems. They deserve all credit for that—and they will deserve still greater credit if they steadfastly maintain that position.

Livestock prices, like all prices, rise at one time and fall another. But freedom is an absolute that can't be subjected to variation.

Another Vote Against Public Power

It has often been observed that when the people get a chance to vote on public power—as in municipal and other elections of a local nature—they generally vote No.

That truism has proved again on May 9, in Lake City, Florida. There the voters rejected by a margin of almost three-to-one a proposal that the city take over a private power company's facilities and run them under municipal ownership.

This election did not go by default. It was hotly contested and every voter was fully exposed to the arguments of both sides. Municipal ownership advocates, consisting principally of city officials, argued that a city-owned utility would pay no taxes and therefore would be a good money-maker. Strong opposition was voiced by a citizens' committee of some 60 business and civic leaders. They opposed the plan on the grounds of principle, pointing out that it was a step toward socialism. They also opposed it on practical grounds—one objection here being that a small city plant could not be trusted to provide dependable service and might become obsolete comparatively quickly.

The general manager of the regulated, tax-paying utility involved hailed the result as a resounding endorsement of the American free enterprise system. It was certainly that. It also was an overwhelming rejection of the idea that any community can profit from tax-free government business. The Lake City voters know, in other words, that tax freedom for one enterprise can only mean heavier taxes for all other enterprise and individuals. Every American should recognize that obvious fact.

No State Is Landlocked

"Some of our states are landlocked geographically but no state is landlocked in an economic sense."

That observation comes from no less an authority than the Federal Maritime Board. It was made in connection with the recent observance of National Maritime Day.

The Board also declared that all the people of the United States have a stake in our maritime industry—in the merchant ships that fly the U. S. flag and ply the trade routes of the world. It could have added that people in some of the landlocked states, though they may never have seen an ocean, have one of the greatest stakes in the existence and the future of this industry. For example, most of our farm production takes place far from the seaboards. But about a tenth of all our croplands are used to produce the farm commodities we export. The welfare of farmers everywhere is strongly influenced by the state of export trade.

So it is with manufactured wares of a thousand and one kinds. Something like $15 billion a year worth of U. S. goods finds a market overseas—which means great numbers of good jobs for American men and women.

Yes, the U. S. merchant marine is a great servant of our farmers and workers—as farm leaders, industrial leaders, and government leaders have attested time and time again. That merchant marine is the dependable link between producers and consumers who may live many thousands of miles apart, with broad oceans in between.

"Flying Ants" May Be Termites

Take a good, close look at the "flying ants" that you may find glistening in the warm sunlight these days near your house or buildings. Chances are they are termites heading for a wedding in your woodwork.

Spring's mating call sends the ants and termites soaring on their frail wings, and it's only the royalty that flies. When they pair off, though, it means a new colony is beginning.

Look at the wings. If they are transparent with distinct, heavy veins, are tapered and only slightly longer than the insect's body, protruding from the sides of the body when folded, it is a winged ant with ambitions for an ant hill. If the wings are long and narrow with tiny, barely visible veins, and if they lie back parallel when folded, you are looking at a termite with designs on your doornail.

Of course, if you have taken the precaution to use fence posts and structural members properly treated against termites, you have little cause for alarm. Wood products pressure-treated with penta, for example, are resistant to both termites and decay. Tests have proved that this means four times more service life from wood—and no home life at all for termites.

Garden Section of Woman's Club Hears Harry Sandberg Talk

Harry Sandberg of Felter's Subdivision talked to the Garden Section of the Antioch Woman's Club about "Insect Garden Pests and their Control" when the club met at the home of Mrs. John Wagner in Antioch Hills Monday afternoon. Robert Willert who was to have appeared had been called out of town due to a death in the family.

During his talk, Mr. Sandberg showed several cases of mounted insects, all of the specimens having been found in his garden. His entire collection numbers several thousand insects.

Plans for the proposed garden talk were altered because of the short period of time the organization has been functioning. It was felt that the original plan was too elaborate an undertaking for the present, so a garden visiting day was planned instead.

On the next regular meeting date, members will meet and go from garden to garden to see the progress each member has made during the past year.

For the rest of the growing season, each member is requested to keep a record of blooming sequence in her own garden to determine at which time it is most attractive. These records will be tabulated and compared so that next year a public garden walk can be planned when gardens are expected to be at the height of their blooming period.

The Grayslake Garden Section has invited the Antioch Garden Section to enter an arrangement in their annual garden show on June 14. Mrs. Ed Vos, Mrs. Louis Biel and Mrs. John Wagner will have charge of the arrangement.

The serving of refreshments concluded the meeting.

Merger Move.....

Joining of Lake County under one Red Cross Chapter will mark the first time that such a consolidation of organization in the county has been achieved. At one time the county was served by three chapters, and in 1924 it was consolidated into two with the Waukegan-North Chicago Chapter acquiring the northern part of the county and to be known as the North Lake County Chapter.

Red Cross Started in 1917
As a permanent organization, operating in Lake County, the Red Cross made its first real start in June 1917, when authority was granted to form a chapter at Waukegan. The first activities were mainly in the production field and Red Cross workers in that year produced surgical dressings, hospital gowns, and similar types of sewing. As World War I progressed branch chapters were set up in Gurnee, Wauconda, and Millburn to assist with the production efforts.

A Junior Red Cross organization was established at Waukegan Township High School in 1930 and most high schools, in the district, now have such organizations.

The tempo of local Red Cross activities increased during World War II and in 1945 the North Lake County Chapter area over-subscribed the highest goal in its history and raised $117,000.00. The goal was $102,000.00. Local activities, during World War II and the following years, included, as major activities, the Blood program for the Armed Services, Surgical Dressings and Sewing; trained volunteers such as Nurses Aide, Gray Ladies, Canteen, Motor Corps, Entertainment and Instruction. These volunteers contributed thousands of hours a year at Downey Veterans Hospital, Great Lakes Naval Training Center, and the U. S. Naval Hospital. Services were also given through the Home Service Program, to the families of Servicemen as they were faced with problems that at some times seemed overwhelming. The same activities, during the Korean War, were also carried on by Red Cross workers.

During the year of 1953 North Lake County Volunteers had an outstanding record in the number of volunteer hours given per person and the quantities of items prepared and distributed. This included gifts for the High Seas Program and special items requested by the Veterans Hospital such as surgical dressings (including a special swab used in brain surgery), and layettes.

First Aid Classes Popular
First Aid Classes have never failed to be one of the most popular in the area and our Police and Fire Departments, thruout the area, have been faithful in keeping their certificates up to date and keeping abreast of the latest techniques.

In 1953 a new Program, the "Learn to Swim" was launched and this has yearly attracted over 2,000 children in the area served by the North Lake County Chapter.

Among the more spectacular emergencies in which the North Lake County volunteers participated in 1953 when they were called upon to establish temporary quarters for Waukegan residents when they were routed from their homes during the flash flood. Again in 1954 when they assisted firemen and auxiliary units by serving coffee and food during the million dollars fire that so disastrously swept through Zion.

Whether the office of township collector will be abolished or not will be left in the hands of the voters. The Lake County Board of Supervisors by a 3 to 1 vote decided to place the question on the ballot at the next election. Supervisor Lloyd E. Murrie of Antioch was one of those opposing the plan.

Disposal of Sewage From Launches Called Lake Health Menace

Rep. W. J. Murphy, Petite lake, said that there are 500 big launches in the Chain of Lakes area from which sewage is disposed, and that this is a health menace.

The problem is to bar the use of toilets on the launches, for many who live on these boats during weekends would find some way of avoiding the law.

Murphy endorsed the proposed Lake County Health Department which is scheduled to go on the ballot in November if the Board of Supervisors agrees to petitions now in circulation.

STALLS BEST FOR YOUNG CALVES

Individual stalls are better than "group pens" for dairy calves up to six weeks old, according to recent Wisconsin experiments reported in the June issue of Successful Farming magazine.

Inexpensive, portable stalls have been designed by University of Wisconsin experts that make it easy to feed and water calves and clean the stalls.

Calves in these two-calf stalls are not as apt to start sucking, are better protected from drafts, and don't have to lie in wet bedding, the magazine says.

Rescue Squad Garage Painted

The garage of the Antioch Rescue Squad station has been painted by the members in the last two weeks with the result that the place is quite attractive. Capt. ### OUT ON A LIMB

By Sammy McCulloch

It's taken Pappy Brown a long time to get used to new-fangled ways. Yesterday he walked into the railroad station and said to the ticket agent, "Say, Mister, has the three o'clock train gone yet?"

"How about the five o'clock train?"

"Oh, that won't be along for a long time yet."

"Are you sure?"

"Course I'm sure," the feller said. Pappy turned around, motioned to his wife, and walked out of the station. "All right, Sadie," he said, "I reckon we can go ahead and cross them tracks!"

Down in Atlanta, the folks who love trees have won the big battle to save Fernbank Forest, a wonderful, 70-acre primeval forest that hasn't been cut over for at least a hundred years. And it's right in the heart of the city!

My friend Sam, the tree farmer, was asking me some questions about markets for his trees today. Usually the best market, I told him, is fairly close to you, 'cause freight is a big factor in the cost of wood. But if you own a lot of good timber, or the local market is slow, it may pay you to learn about markets farther away from home. Once timber has been loaded on a truck or freight car, the actual number of miles it must be shipped doesn't increase the freight charges in direct proportion.

There's all sorts of markets for lumber. 'Course, there's sawmills, both portable and stationary. Veneer mills pay good prices for veneer blocks. Poles bring good prices—from electric power, telephone and telegraph companies. Railroad ties are usually in demand. Mining companies buy props, lagging, sills and mine ties. And fuelwood brings a good price, especially near a big city. If you want more information about your local markets for lumber, write to American Forest Products Industries, 1816 N Street N.W., Washington 6, D.C.

Milk Vending Machine

Vandalism rather than burglary appeared to be the intent of two youths who made their escape when they were caught in the act of wrecking the interior of a milk vending machine of the Willowdale Dairy.

Dairy on Lake st. at 2 a. m. Tuesday.

J. L. Cosgrove, Sr., who lives in the property next to the vending machine said he was awakened about 2 a. m. by a noise and saw the boys at the machine. He yelled at them and they ran.

It was said the two gained entrance to the milk cooler, smashed cartons of milk and tore wiring from the walls.

The speed of the modern ELECTRIC ranges!

25% faster than 5 years ago—

today—nothing cooks faster!

Cooking temperatures unlimited! Kelvinator's new Thermo-Static Action Switches give precise control of any cooking heat. New models are available in 8 colors and white.

See your electric appliance dealer

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Some of the most remarkable advances in the entire appliance field have been on electric ranges.

For example, new and improved surface cooking units were designed by America's great electric industry research centers. Better and faster ways of transforming electricity into quick heat for cooking have followed. Plus controls that offer a wide range of temperatures that you can depend on to give the same even heat, every time.

But modern electric ranges have more than well-controlled speed. They will keep your kitchen an average of 10° degrees cooler and far more comfortable. And electric broilers give you clean, radiant electric heat that sears the juices in meats. It's like broiling over charcoal, only faster and easier.

Today's electric ranges also keep your kitchen cleaner. (Something worth remembering if you plan to build, buy or remodel your home.) You will see many more of the "new idea" features in the latest electric ranges. Ask your dealer to show them to you. And while you're there find out just how easy it is to have an automatic electric range in your home.

Big Saving—We Pay Part of Your Range Installation Cost!

Need new wiring to install your electric range? We share the cost with qualified home owners in 1, 2 and 3-family dwellings. This can cut your expense by about half.

And you get more than a money saving!

The modern wiring that goes with your installation helps improve your TV picture, brightens lights, makes everything electrical work better. You can also install a 240-volt electric dryer, water heater or air conditioner quickly and cheaply. The Share-the-Cost Plan is available on terms of up to 2 years.

HEALTH TALK

Planning for any joyful event is fun, but planning for your annual departure from your work-a-day world should be done with all the zest and anticipatory pleasure you can muster, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society observes in Health Talk.

Vacation time is your time—yours to be free of the cares and responsibilities of your job—wonderful hours to enjoy yourself.

Some persons are completely happy in their work-a-day job; others are not as fortunate. Whichever you are, you still need a change. You need to get away—do different things. This does not mean you must take an expensive trip, or crowd a lot of activities into your vacation hours. Rather, you must do the things you enjoy. Perhaps putting in your garden is the answer for you, or a trip to a new atmosphere, even though it be the town next to yours, or to another state. Old friends have new faces when you haven't seen them for a while. And new faces can become old friends as the years pass by.

Planning your vacation should be done wisely, so that you can enjoy it to the hilt. Rushing about to complete last minute chores will leave you exhausted, too tired to start your fun with zest.

Will swimming be a relaxing feature of your vacation? Swimming is fun. But don't over-do—don't plan to swim across the lake the first time out—take it easy. And Don't think the sun's rays will bypass you while you're resting from the swim. Take exposure in small doses; sunburn has marred many vacations. Don't swim in inviting but dangerous places. Be sure that the depth of the water is right for diving, and that the refreshing water does not conceal boulders, stones and other debris that are traps for accidents.

Yes, golf is a wonderful pastime, but are you one of those who has to play 36 holes the first time out? Don't be—this could be hazardous. Start your rounds gradually—get yourself "seasoned." Overexertion can produce some unpleasant results, which don't contribute to a happy vacation.

Vacations should be happy. They should be mirthful as well as healthful, and they should provide happiness, for happiness is a natural partner to good health.

Vacations should also be a forgetting time. Forget the hurts, slights and unkindnesses that have come your way. Try to rise above them. Try to gear your philosophy to the thought that some persons are only happy when they are inflicting, or so they think, hurts on others. Remembering this, your own attitude will carry a buoyancy that will inspire those about you.

So plan your vacation wisely. Plan your thoughts just as carefully as you pack your luggage. Avoid

Low-Calorie Snack Fits To A Tea!

A pleasant way to shun the sun these sultry days is to take a tea-time-out from your chores, relaxing beside a tray like this of nibbly icebox cookies and tall, frosty glasses of iced tea.

Heat-producing calories are kept to a minimum in these slim-minded snacks, for both the cookies and the tea are sweetened with pure saccharin, more than 400 times sweeter than sugar but containing not a single weight-adding calorie.

To sweeten the tea, choose from several brands of liquid saccharin, or dissolve 24 1/4-grain tablets in one-half cup of water to make your own syrup. A teaspoonful equals one teaspoon of sugar in sweetening power.

You can freeze and keep rolls of these icebox cookies handy for munching in a matter of minutes.

Orange Pecan Cookies

- Dissolve..... 6 saccharin tablets (1/4 grain each) in 1/4 cup unsweetened orange juice
- Cream in a 6-cup bowl..... 1/2 cup shortening
Sift together..... 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with orange juice mixture.
- Blend well into dough..... 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
2 tablespoons pecans, finely chopped

Shape dough into a roll 2 inches thick and wrap in waxed paper. Chill in refrigerator until firm enough to slice, about 2 hours. Cut into 1/4-inch slices and place on ungreased cookie pan. Bake on rack slightly above center in 400° oven (moderately hot) for 12 minutes. Makes 18 cookies. Calories per cookie: 44.

Follow Label Directions On Insecticides

Many insect-control projects fail because the farmer does not follow the instructions on the insecticide package labels. Following directions will give you the best results at the lowest cost, and provide insurance against excess toxic residues on food products.

Treat only crops or animals listed on the label, and use the specified amount of insecticide, says a special service feature in the June issue of Successful Farming magazine. Make the right number of applications, with the proper interval between applications, and be sure to allow the recommended time interval between the last application and the harvest of the treated crop.

Every package of insecticide shipped in Interstate Commerce must carry a label approved by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This label is for your protection, guidance, and use.

The label contains an ingredient statement giving the percent of each active ingredient and the total percent of the inert ingredients. Or, if it is not highly toxic, it will list the names of each active ingredient, plus the total percent of the inert, the article said.

If the compound is highly toxic, it must carry the skull and crossbones, the word "poison" in red letters, and an antidote statement.

Before the label is approved, the manufacturer must present evidence that the insecticide will be effective for control of the pests against which it is recommended, safe to plants or animals when used as directed, and safe to food and forage derived from plants or animals treated as directed.

It is best to start your control program before much damage occurs, the magazine advises, and when in doubt about your particular problem, consult an authority such as your county agent or extension entomologist.

How far can an extension ladder be extended... safely, that is? According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, a 36-foot extension ladder should never be extended beyond the last three rungs of the base section. For 36 to 48 foot ladders the minimum is four rungs. For 48 to 60 foot ladders the minimum is increased to five rungs.

Overtake and pass another car only when you are sure you can make it safely. If you are driving 50 miles per hour, and you wish to pass a car going 40 miles per hour, you will travel almost two city blocks before you are past him and back in your own lane, safety experts say.

I've been fixin' up my log road lately, too. Since most of us woodmen or farmers go into the woods year after year to bring out wood for home use as well as for sale, it's a good investment to keep the roads in shape.

Slim Margin on Beef-Cow Herds

The profit in producing beef calves to sell as feeders is pretty slim, according to records of Michigan farmers with beef-cow herds. A Michigan State University survey shows that costs average $75 per cow with the average yearly income running about $82, based on 1955 prices.

Income-cost figures varied greatly among the individual herds in the study, reports the June issue of Successful Farming magazine. Average annual cost ranged from $65 to $120 per cow, and calf production per cow varied from 200 to 450 pounds by mid-October. New returns above costs on the most profitable herd was generally $75 per cow more than on the low profit herd, the magazine says.

University economist Karl R. Wright says the survey indicates that to increase profits you should keep at least a 40-cow herd or more and feed them inexpensive roughage and little or no grain in winter months.

He says in the article to study your markets carefully and sell where and when prices are best, use the highest quality cows and bulls possible, and try to have the calves born as early as possible. Everything should be done to save 100 per cent of the calf crop.

Increased fryer production encourages a falling retail market. Beef trends higher at wholesale but steady for most cuts at last week's higher retail levels. Fresh pork items drop in price at all market levels but smoked pork cuts remain steady. Groceries mostly unchanged. Spring fruit arrivals increase in variety but remain strong. Potatoes and onions trend higher as do all but local vegetables.

N. I. Gas Co. Unable to Supply Space Heat To Large Waiting List

Northern Illinois Gas Company is continuing to do everything it can to solve its tight gas supply situation, but there is no early prospect of reducing appreciably the growing residential space heat waiting list. President Marvin Chandler told stockholders today (June 12) at the utility's annual meeting in Aurora (West Junior High School).

Chandler's report to stockholders preceded the election of two new members to the nine-man board of directors, William S. Kerr, Evanston, vice-president and business manager of Northwestern University; and Harold B. Smith, Barrington, president, Illinois Tool Works. In his talk, Chandler briefly outlined the utility's operations in which the supply problem continues to be the most important.

While the gas supply is sufficient to meet basic demands, he pointed out, house heating poses a formidable problem. Approximately 44,000 gas furnaces have been connected to the company's system since May 1, 1955, and next winter about 232,000 residences in northern Illinois will be heating with gas—an increase of 196,000 during the last ten years.

165,000 on Waiting List
"However," Chandler said, "with 165,000 still on our waiting list and more filing applications every day, I regret to say there is no early prospect of reducing this waiting list appreciably."

The Herscher storage dome project which has been of great assistance to Northern Illinois Gas in taking on additional customers the past three years does not give promise at this time of any near term useful expansion, he emphasized.

Referring to the anticipated 45 per cent increase in natural gas that will be available on a peak winter day from the Natural Gas Pipeline Company through its proposed connection with a Rocky Mountain supply line, Chandler said that completion by December, 1957, is far from assured because of possible delays in obtaining the necessary approvals and in delivery of pipe.

Seek Gas Storage
Meanwhile, Northern Illinois Gas and its suppliers are continuing to seek additional means of storing gas in or near the company's territory.

Among the storage methods being investigated by the company is the possibility of other storage domes similar to Herscher but on a smaller scale. One of the company's suppliers also is actively investigating the utilization of depleted or nearly depleted gas and oil fields in central and southern Illinois.

Chandler reviewed the company's current efforts to step up the supply of gas for use on cold winter days. "We now have over three and a half million gallons of propane in storage (the second largest in this respect among all gas utilities in the country) and are well along on geological and engineering studies for a much larger scale propane storage facility."

"This project will be a cavern which will have to be mined out of

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

The forthcoming observance of Independence Day will mean heavier than usual traffic on the highways. On the Fourth of July we celebrate the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. But for some that day of celebration will end up as a day of tragedy because of the lives lost on our highways.

If every motorist who takes to the road on the Fourth of July would merely heed the rules of the road there would be no tragedies. The long lines of traffic will irritate some drivers and cause others to lose their patience. When this happens there is every reason to believe they will toss the rules of the road out of the window and attempt to proceed in a hazardous manner.

Courtesy should be the byword on July 4. Courteous driving has never hurt a driver but it has saved a lot of lives. It may take the edge off of the thought, but one fact stands out—driving courteously can be mighty practical.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

solid rock several hundred feet below the surface instead of the conventional high pressure tank we now use for propane storage.

"The proposed cavern might hold as much as 10 million gallons of propane, equal to over 900 million cubic feet of gas... a supply less than our total requirement for only two days when the temperature is around zero."

Chandler also commented on the company's long range gas supply program. A subsidiary, NI-Gas Supply, Inc., has been formed to develop sources of gas through exploration and acquisition.
